

Travel Information Council and Oregon Heritage Tree Program
HERITAGE TREE HERO OF THE YEAR AWARD

NOMINATION FORM

Oregon is a state renowned for its magnificent trees, many of which have ties to Oregon's history. To increase awareness of the connection these legacy trees have to Oregon's past, the Oregon Heritage Tree Program was established in 1995. It was the first state-sponsored heritage tree program in the nation. The goals of the program are to educate Oregonians about the Oregon history each of these trees represent and to promote appreciation of these trees as "arboreal historians."

This award recognizes individuals and groups that view Oregon's history from the perspective of the trees that witnessed/are witnessing it. Tell us about an inspirational individual or organization that is engaging communities through education about the importance of trees and raising awareness about Oregon's history told through trees and forests. We encourage nominations that tell the stories of historically under-represented communities whose contributions are an integral part of Oregon's history.
